

exclusively. So I usually go there once in a great while we might go elsewhere. The Lord is very plain, not as rich in butter etc but rather good & cheap. my dinner there never costs 50cts.
It is run on the American style help yourself. I haven't heard further from Council. The 25th we have the exam. pray for me specially the 24th. God is able.

Now dearie I will draw to a close in my hours of loneliness I miss you. The tender touch of your hand on mine as I am aware of the fact that there is a tender tie existing between us. The Lord bless you sweetheart & give you the desire of your heart in being led on to know him in all his fullness. Try for me. Yours as ever, Dr. H. M. Magard.

My own dear Clara:-

Again I take my accustomed seat before the table to write you a few lines. it is Sunday night. I am after playing on the gramophone some of my favourite pieces, just think it is almost eight months since I have heard any English voices sing his praises. ah! there are many things that I miss at times, but he is my light and my salvation. I love him tonight from the depths of my heart.
and only desire to please him.
I could not ~~could~~ go through without him, without his presence life is vain & there is nothing that satisfies. Your two last letters received and as you know I am always glad to hear from you. I note what you say concerning Mr. as a Christian it is hard to understand and yet there are days of great upheavals morally and spiritually. I trust he stays at home that is all, you need not be afraid of any of anything I might write. I have learned much these last two years, however the ford undertake for him.

You asked me about leaving the last place, when it came down to the end I had not the nerve to tell them why I was leaving & as they did not press me for an answer I let it go. They were not at all satisfied about my leaving. I like it much better here under present conditions, I have more time to study, can go out & in when I feel like it. No, I do not neglect my meals, French do not eat much for breakfast, just a roll without butter very often and coffee. There is a restaurant quite near for the students (students of all classes, art, music etc etc, it is under the auspices of one of the colleges of France and is run on the cheapest rates possible as students are always poor.

It is reserved for ladies.
